Your application must include:

- 1. An English CV
- 2. A statement of purpose in which you explain in what way you intend to use this foreign stay to advance your educational/professional/personal goals. (1,000 words in English maximum.) Be as specific as possible; we strongly recommend that you browse the web pages of the universities listed above. List those universities which you prefer most and explain why. As you are supposed to study abroad, it is not enough to say that you would like to work on your thesis there or meet new people.
Here you also need to provide the names and contact information of at least two people qualified to support your application. At least one of these people must be from the English Department. No letters of recommendation are needed, but you must contact the teachers before giving their names in your application form.
- 3. A sample of the academic work in English that most clearly demonstrates your qualification for this study experience, e.g. an essay you wrote for class, part of your thesis (NOT the whole thesis), artwork, etc.
- 4. An overview of your academic results so far. The overview must cover all your previous university study including the current semester. Submit 'zápočtový list A' from STAG and (if you are an MA/PhD student) a copy of your diploma supplement.

Submit your application

- 1. electronically in erasmusplus.upol.cz (pdf files only) by 12 February 2017, and then
2. print out the personal cover page (with your photograph and contact details) from the erasmusplus application together with your statement of purpose and submit both in paper to Markéta Janebová or Kamila Večeřová by 13 February 2017.

Deadline of the electronic application:

12 February 2017
